Explanation about the Appropriate Use of Earnings Forecasts, and Other Special Matters

Consolidated earnings forecasts for the year ending December 31, 2023 are based on information that is available at the time of writing, but a number of known and unknown factors could cause actual results to differ from projections.

1. Qualitative Information, Financial Statements, etc.

(1) Qualitative Information Concerning Consolidated Business Results

The Rakuten Group discloses consolidated business results in terms of both its internal measures which management relies upon in making decisions (hereinafter the "Non-GAAP financial measures") and those under IFRS.

Non-GAAP operating income is operating income under IFRS (hereinafter "IFRS operating income") after deducting unusual items and other adjustments as prescribed by the Rakuten Group. Management believes that the disclosure of Non-GAAP financial measures facilitates comparison between the Rakuten Group and peer companies in the same industry or comparison of its business results with those of prior fiscal years by stakeholders, and can provide useful information in understanding the underlying business results of the Rakuten Group and its future outlook. Unusual items refer to one-off items that the Rakuten Group believes shall be excluded for the purposes of preparing a future outlook based on certain rules. Other adjustment items are those that tend to differ depending on the standards applied, and are therefore less comparable between companies, such as share based compensation expenses and amortization of acquisition-related intangible assets.

The Rakuten Group has adopted IFRS 17 "Insurance Contracts" from the beginning of the three months ended March 31, 2023. As a result, figures for the FinTech segment for the nine months ended September 30, 2023 have been restated reflecting the cumulative effect of this accounting standard change as of the beginning of the previous fiscal year, being the date of transition. For further details, please refer to "2. Condensed Quarterly Consolidated Financial Statements and Notes, (7) Notes to the Condensed Quarterly Consolidated Financial Statements (Material Accounting Policies)".

(Note) For disclosure of Non-GAAP financial measures, the Rakuten Group refers to the rules specified by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission but does not fully comply with such rules.

i) Business Results for the nine months ended September 30, 2023 (Non-GAAP basis)

The world economy picked up during the nine months ended September 30, 2023 despite weakness seen in some regions. Looking ahead, it will be necessary to pay attention to the impact from global monetary tightening as well as increasing risk of economic downturn due to rising prices and other factors. The Japanese economy, including personal investments and capital expenditures etc., is recovering moderately, and going forward, it is expected that a moderate economic recovery will continue.

According to the "White Paper on Information and Communications in Japan" (Note), the amount of data used over networks in Japan has increased dramatically along with the advancement of communications infrastructure and the spread and diversification of digital services. Since the spread of COVID-19, digitalization has progressed, making contactless life possible, and the amount of data traffic worldwide, especially the amount of data used via mobile terminals, has increased significantly, and is expected to grow further in the future.

Under such an environment, the Rakuten Group is proactively developing and promoting the use of services that leverage advanced technologies such as AI and data both online and offline based on membership and a common loyalty point program. Rakuten Mobile was the first company in the world to introduce Open RAN that enables multi-vendor wireless access networks, including cell phone base stations, as well as vRAN, a virtualization technology, across its entire commercial network. In addition, Rakuten Symphony is proposing the open and fully virtualized architecture implemented by Rakuten Mobile to telecommunications companies around the world, as telecommunications carriers continue to innovate their network equipment configurations. Going forward, the Rakuten Group will continue to enhance its competitiveness by further evolving the Rakuten Ecosystem.

In the Internet Services segment, factors including various measures and sales promotion activities which sought to improve customer convenience and satisfaction for internet shopping mall Rakuten Ichiba successfully led to further retention of customers, even after the stay-at-home consumption amid the COVID-19 pandemic had run its course. In addition, continued steady recovery in demand for domestic travel and other factors resulted in continued growth in transaction value in domestic e-commerce services. In the FinTech segment, the customer base for each service has continued to expand, and the Rakuten Group achieved increases in revenue and profit in credit card related services, banking services, securities services, among others. In the Mobile segment, revenue increased year-on-year due to an increase in telecommunication fee revenues and other factors, and the segment loss steadily decreased accordingly.

As a result, the Rakuten Group recorded revenue of ¥1,491,239 million, up 9.7% year-on-year for the nine months ended September 30, 2023. In the Mobile segment, segment loss peaked in the three months ended March 31, 2022 and has contracted thereafter. It recorded a Non-GAAP operating loss of ¥149,459 million, compared to a Non-GAAP operating loss of ¥262,560 million during the nine months ended September 30, 2022.

iv) Segment Information

Business results for each segment are as follows. In terms of the IFRS management approach, segment profit or loss is presented on a Non-GAAP operating income basis.

Effective from the three months ended March 31, 2023, subsidiaries and businesses belonging to the media & entertainment department were transferred from the Mobile segment to the Internet Services segment for the purpose of expanding the Rakuten Ecosystem, enhancing synergy effects, etc. In accordance with this change, segment revenue increased by ¥12,371 million and segment profit decreased by ¥8,752 million in the Internet Services segment, and segment revenue and segment loss in the Mobile segment decreased by the same amount for the nine months ended September 30, 2022.

Internet Services

In domestic e-commerce services, the mainstay of Internet services, the Rakuten Group is aiming for further growth in gross merchandise sales and revenue by working on various initiatives, including sales promotion activities to cultivate loyal customers and win new customers and promotion of cross-use of services. In the internet shopping mall "Rakuten Ichiba", in addition to the various measures and sales promotion activities which sought to improve customer convenience and satisfaction successfully led to further retention of customers, "Hometown Tax" program demand increased before its rule's changes. Moreover, the online travel booking service, "Rakuten Travel", saw growth in transaction value compared to the nine months ended September 30, 2022, thanks to the success of sales promotion measures and other measures in line with the recovery in demand for domestic travel. In addition, sales in the advertising business continued to grow due to the growth in transaction value in domestic e-commerce services.

In other Internet services including overseas Internet services, revenue grew mainly in the US cashback service "Rakuten Rewards". However, segment profit decreased year-on-year mainly due to the impact of the economic slowdown on the advertising business and other businesses in the US region. As a result, revenue for the Internet Services segment rose to ¥867,016 million, a 11.5% year-on-year increase, while segment profit stood at ¥42,951 million, a 13.5% year-on-year decrease.

	Nine months ended September 30, 2022	Nine months ended September 30, 2023	Amount Change YoY	% Change YoY
Segment revenue	777,796	867,016	89,220	11.5%
Segment profit	49,650	42,951	(6,699)	(13.5)%

FinTech

In credit card related services, the cumulative total number of "Rakuten Card" issued surpassed 29 million in May 2023. In addition to an ongoing recovery in offline consumption, advancement continued in the popularization of cashless transactions due to increased demand for contactless services as spurred by a change in behavioral patterns amid the COVID-19 pandemic. The services continued to show strong growth, as demonstrated by the annual card shopping transaction value for the prior 12 months (August 2022 - July 2023) having surpassed 20 trillion yen in July 2023 as a result of increased transactions both in and outside the various services of the Rakuten Group. There was also a substantial increase in transaction value for cashless payment services as a result of active initiatives to expand the range of locations where payment is available and provide a service that achieves a high level of satisfaction among both member shops and users. In banking services, the number of savings accounts surpassed 14 million in June 2023 and the customer base has continued to expand thereafter. In securities services, the total number of general securities accounts reached 9 million in April 2023, and further progress was made in increasing customer retention.

As a result, the FinTech segment recorded ¥533,589 million in revenue, a 11.5% year-on-year increase, while segment profit stood at ¥88,221 million, a 29.1% year-on-year increase.

(Millions of Yen)

Segment revenue	478,434	533,589	55,155	11.5%
Segment profit	68,336	88,221	19,885	29.1%

Mobile

In mobile services, telecommunication fees continued to increase, contributing to a growth in revenue. After the launch of the "SAIKYO Plan" in June 2023, data usage is trending upwards, and it is expected to contribute to a further rise in ARPU and an increase in revenue. The number of subscribers for its mobile carrier service has surpassed 5 million in August 2023, and is steadily increasing. With regard to cost, we progressively worked to reduce costs, primarily network-related costs, and used the new roaming contracts as an opportunity to control capital expenditures at a level far below our previous plan.

As a result, the Mobile segment recorded ¥265,086 million in revenue, a 9.6% year-on-year increase. Although a segment loss of ¥266,297 million (compared to losses of ¥371,444 million during the nine months ended September 30, 2022) was recorded, the loss has contracted since its peak in the three months ended March 31, 2022.

	Nine months ended September 30, 2022	Nine months ended September 30, 2023	Amount Change YoY	% Change YoY

(3) Qualitative Information about Consolidated Business Forecasts

Currently, for the forecast of consolidated operating results for fiscal year 2023, the Rakuten Group aims at double-digit growth from the previous fiscal year for consolidated revenue, excluding results from the securities business which are impacted substantially by stock market conditions. However, there is a possibility that some businesses may experience a decrease in revenue due to factors such as the situation in Ukraine and price hikes.

The outlook for each segment for the current fiscal year is as follows.

Internet Services

In the area of domestic Internet services including e-commerce, the Rakuten Group will continue to aim for further growth in gross transaction value and revenue by pursuing various initiatives, such as cultivating a loyal customer base, winning new customers, promoting cross-use of services, and further opening up the Rakuten Ecosystem with a view to expanding the e-commerce platform, while creating new markets through the use of technologies such as data and Al. We need to monitor closely the reactionary rush in demand preceding the revision of the rules on the "Hometown Tax" program during the three months ended September 30, 2023 and the impact of the changes in marketing initiatives announced in November 2023 on transaction value. Although the travel booking service, "Rakuten Travel", and other services are performing well due to the renewed expansion of inbound demand and government travel support measures, there is a possibility that revenue and profit may decrease depending on the continuation of such measures and the impact of infection diseases and other factors. In Rakuten Rewards and other overseas Internet services, we will boost cross-business synergies and pursue our overseas strategies while working to achieve even greater cross-business management efficiency across national borders.

FinTech

In credit card related services, we will continue striving to achieve further growth in shopping transaction value by strengthening marketing initiatives aimed at expanding market share and Group synergies. In banking services, we will work on measures to promote use as a primary bank account, such as the use of the bank account for depositing salaries, in addition to the acquisition of new accounts. In insurance services, we will aim for further growth through increasing the number of new policies and expanding our products that have a high level of affinity with Internet services. It is difficult to make a forecast for securities services due to the substantial impact of stock market conditions.

Mobile

In mobile services, we will promote subscriber acquisition through competitive rate plans, one of our strengths, and measures such as attractive marketing using the Rakuten Ecosystem, in addition to improved customer experience from the new roaming contracts. In October 2023, Rakuten Mobile, Inc. received approval from the Minister of Internal Affairs and Communications for its special base station deployment plan for the 700 MHz frequency spectrum. Based on this approval, we will begin building a mobile network utilizing the 700 MHz band in order to improve the customer experience by providing an even higher-quality mobile service, and aim to further acquire subscribers while achieving profitability as soon as possible.

Adoption of IFRS 17 "Insurance Contracts"

The Rakuten Group has adopted the following accounting standard from the three months ended March 31, 2023.

	IFRS	Description
IFRS 17	Insurance contracts	Revision of accounting for insurance contracts

The Rakuten Group adopted IFRS 17 "Insurance Contracts" (hereinafter "IFRS 17") and restatement is presented at the beginning of the previous fiscal year, being the date of transition.

Insurance Contracts

Contracts under which the Rakuten Group accepts significant insurance risk are classified as insurance contracts. Insurance contracts are aggregated into groups for measurement purposes. Groups of insurance contracts are determined by identifying portfolios of insurance contracts, each comprising contracts subject to similar risks and managed together, and dividing each portfolio into three groups based on the profitability of contracts:

- a group of contracts that are onerous on initial recognition;
- a group of contracts that, on initial recognition, have no significant possibility of becoming onerous subsequently; and
- a group containing the remaining contracts in the portfolio.

An insurance contract issued by the Rakuten Group is recognized from the earliest of:

- the beginning of its coverage period (i.e. the period during which the Rakuten Group provides services in respect of any premiums within the boundary of the contract);
- when the first payment from the policyholder becomes due or, if there is no contractual due date, when it is received from the policyholder; and
- when facts and circumstances indicate that a contract is onerous.

Cash flows are within the contract boundary if they arise from substantive rights and obligations that exist during the reporting period in which the Rakuten Group can compel the policyholder to pay premiums or has a substantive obligation to provide services (including insurance coverage and any investment services).

Cash flows within the boundary of a contract relate directly to the fulfilment of the contract, including those for which the Rakuten Group has discretion over the amount or timing. These include payments to (or on behalf of) policyholders, insurance acquisition cash flows and other costs that are incurred in fulfilling contracts.

On initial recognition, the Rakuten Group measures a group of insurance contracts as the total of (a) the fulfilment cash flows, which comprise estimates of future cash flows, adjusted to reflect the time value of money and the associated financial risks, and a risk adjustment for non-financial risk; and (b) the contractual service margin (hereinafter the "CSM"). The fulfilment cash flows of a group of insurance contracts do not reflect the Rakuten Group's non-performance risk.

The risk adjustment for non-financial risk for a group of insurance contracts, determined separately from the other estimates, is the compensation required for bearing uncertainty about the amount and timing of the cash flows that arises from non-financial risk.

The CSM of a group of insurance contracts represents the unearned profit that the Rakuten Group will recognize as it provides services under those contracts. On initial recognition of a group of insurance contracts, if the total of (a) the fulfilment cash flows, (b) any cash flows arising at that date and (c) any amount arising from the derecognition of any assets or liabilities previously recognized for cash flows related to the group (including assets for insurance acquisition cash flows) is a net inflow, then the group is not onerous. In this case, the CSM is measured as the equal and opposite amount of the net inflow, which results in no income or expenses arising on initial recognition.

The carrying amount of a group of insurance contracts at each reporting date is the sum of the liability for remaining coverage and the liability for incurred claims.

The liability for remaining coverage comprises (i) the fulfilment cash flows that relate to services that will be provided under the contracts in future periods and (ii) any remaining CSM at that date.

The liability for incurred claims includes the fulfilment cash flows for incurred claims and expenses that have not yet been paid, including claims that have been incurred but not yet reported.

Insurance revenue and insurance service expenses excluding investment components are recognized as follows.

The Rakuten Group recognizes insurance revenue as it satisfies its performance obligations – i.e. as it provides services under groups of insurance contracts.

The insurance revenue relating to services provided for each year represents the total of the changes in the liability for remaining coverage that relate to services for which the Rakuten Group expects to receive consideration, and comprises the following items.

- A release of the CSM, measured based on coverage units provided.
- Changes in the risk adjustment for non-financial risk relating to current services.
- Claims and other insurance service expenses incurred in the year, generally measured at the amounts expected at the beginning of the year. This includes amounts arising from the derecognition of any assets for cash flows other than insurance acquisition cash flows at the date of initial recognition of a group of insurance contracts, which are recognized as insurance revenue and insurance service expenses at that date.
- Other amounts, including experience adjustments for premium receipts for current or past services for the insurance group and amounts related to incurred policyholder tax expenses.

In addition, the Rakuten Group allocates a portion of premiums that relate to recovering insurance acquisition cash flows to each period in a systematic way based on the passage of time. The Rakuten Group recognizes the allocated amount, adjusted for interest accretion at the discount rates determined on initial recognition of the related group of contracts, as insurance revenue and an equal amount as insurance service expenses.

The Rakuten Group establishes a loss component of the liability for remaining coverage for onerous groups of insurance contracts. The loss component determines the amounts of fulfilment cash flows that are subsequently presented in profit or loss as reversals of losses on onerous contracts and are excluded from insurance revenue when they occur. When the fulfilment cash flows are incurred, they are allocated between the loss component and the liability for remaining coverage excluding the loss component on a systematic basis.

Insurance finance income or expenses are determined by systematically allocating the total sum of expected finance income or expenses over the remaining period of the insurance contract group, and is recognized in net profit or loss, while the difference between the book value of the insurance contract group and the amount measured at the time of such systematic allocation is recorded in other comprehensive income.

The Rakuten Group adopts the full retrospective approach for insurance contract groups issued in the non-life insurance business, accordingly, such contracts are identified, recognized and measured as if IFRS 17 had always been applied.

With respects to insurance contract groups issued in the life insurance business, the Rakuten Group adopts the full retrospective approach for new contracts in the period between January 1, 2021 and December 31, 2021. For the period up to December 31, 2020, the Rakuten Group adopts the modified retrospective approach whereby contract groups as of the date of transition (January 1, 2022) were identified, recognized and measured. For new contracts that arose in the period up to December 31, 2020, adoption of the full retrospective approach was judged impractical, as the required information was not collected (or collected to an adequate degree of data granularity), along with system migration, data retention requirements and other reasons, which make it impossible to perform a significant accounting estimate without hindsight.

The objective of the modified retrospective approach was to achieve the closest outcome to retrospective application possible using reasonable and supportable information available without undue cost or effort. The Rakuten Group applied each of the following modifications only to the extent that it did not have reasonable and supportable information to apply IFRS 17 retrospectively.

The Rakuten Group has applied the following modifications to certain contract groups.

- For groups of contracts issued, initiated or acquired in a period up to December 31, 2020, the future cash flows on initial recognition were estimated by adjusting the amount that were known to have occurred before the transition date.
- For some groups of contracts, the risk adjustment for non-financial risk on initial recognition was determined by adjusting the amount at the transition date for the expected release of risk before the transition date. The expected release of risk was determined with reference to the release of risk for similar contracts that the Rakuten Group issued on the transition date.
- The amount of the CSM recognized in profit or loss before the transition date was determined by comparing the coverage unit on initial recognition and the remaining coverage units at the transition date.

In applying IFRS 17 to the interim financial statements and in the fiscal years after the initial application, the Rakuten Group has changed its treatment of accounting estimates made in past interim financial statements.

The Rakuten Group has applied the transition provisions in IFRS 17 and has not disclosed the impact of the adoption of IFRS 17 on each financial statement line item and earnings per share. The effects of adopting IFRS 17 on the Condensed Quarterly Consolidated Financial Statements at January 1, 2022 are presented in the Condensed Quarterly Consolidated Statement of Changes in Equity.

Changes in Presentation Method

(Significant Accounting Estimates and Judgments)

Preparation of the Condensed Quarterly Consolidated Financial Statements under IFRS for the nine months ended September 30, 2023 involves accounting estimates in respect of certain significant matters. In the process of adopting accounting policies, management of the Rakuten Group is required to make its own judgments. Resulting accounting estimates by their nature may be different from the actual outcome.

Accounting estimates and accounting assumptions are subject to continuous review. Effects of changes in accounting estimates are recognized in the fiscal year in which such changes take place as well as fiscal years that follow.

Estimates and judgments that have significant impact on the amounts in the Condensed Quarterly Consolidated Financial Statements for the nine months ended September 30, 2023 remain the same as those in the consolidated financial statements for the previous fiscal year.

(Segment Information)

i. General Information

As a global innovation company engaged in the three main activities of Internet Services, FinTech, and Mobile, the Rakuten Group is organized into three reportable segments: "Internet Services", "FinTech", and "Mobile".

For the reportable segments, separate financial information on the operational units of the Rakuten Group is available, and such financial information is subject to periodic review for the Board of Directors to decide on the distribution of management resources and evaluate performance.

The "Internet Services" segment comprises businesses providing various e-commerce sites including internet shopping mall "Rakuten Ichiba", online cash-back sites, travel booking sites, portal sites, and digital content sites, along with provision of messaging services, sales of advertising, etc. on these sites, and management of professional sports teams, etc.

The "FinTech" segment engages in businesses providing services related to credit cards, banking and securities over the Internet, crypto asset (virtual currency) spot transaction, life insurance, general insurance, and electronic money, etc.

The "Mobile" segment comprises business operations engaged in the provision of communication services and technologies and operation of electricity supply services, etc.

Effective from the three months ended March 31, 2023, subsidiaries and businesses belonging to the media & entertainment department were transferred from the Mobile segment to the Internet Services segment for the purpose of expanding the Rakuten Ecosystem and enhancing synergy effects, among other reasons. In accordance with this change, segment revenue and segment profit (loss) in the Internet Services segment and the Mobile segment for the nine months ended September 30, 2022 and the three months ended September 30, 2022 have been restated.

As described in (Material Accounting Policies), the Rakuten Group has adopted IFRS 17 from the beginning of the three months ended March 31, 2023, and reflected the cumulative effect of this accounting standard change on the date of transition of January 1, 2022. As a result, figures in the FinTech segment for the nine months ended September 30, 2022 and the three months ended September 30, 2022 have been restated.

ii. Measurement of Segment Revenue and Segment Profit (Loss) by Operating Segments

Operating segment information is reported in accordance with IFRS. Operating segment revenue and profit or loss amounts are those before intersegment eliminations, without consideration of consolidation adjustments, except for certain subsidiaries. The internal measures management relies upon in making decisions are Non-GAAP operating income, which is calculated by adjusting the nonrecurring items and other adjustment items prescribed by the Rakuten Group from the operating income recorded in accordance with IFRS.

Management believes that the disclosure of Non-GAAP financial measures facilitates comparison between the Rakuten Group and peer companies in the same industry or comparison of its business results with those of prior fiscal years by stakeholders, and can provide useful information in understanding the underlying business results of the Rakuten Group and its future outlook. Unusual items refer to one-off items that the Rakuten Group believes shall be excluded for the purposes of preparing a future outlook based on certain rules. Other adjustment items are those that tend to differ depending on the standards applied, and are therefore less comparable between companies, such as share based compensation expenses and amortization of acquisition-related intangible assets.

The Rakuten Group does not allocate assets and liabilities to operating segment information used by the chief operating decision maker.
