Issuance of Subscription Rights to Shares as Stock Options

Rakuten, Inc. (the "Company") announces that at the meeting of the Board of Directors held today, it resolved to issue the following Subscription Rights to Shares as stock options to Directors, Executive Officers and Employees of the Company's subsidiaries on November 1, 2015, pursuant to "Issuance of Subscription Rights to Shares as Stock Options", approved at the 18th Annual General Shareholders' Meeting held on March 27, 2015.

1. Since the value of the Subscription Rights to Shares is linked with the Company's stock price, delivering the Subscription Rights to Shares as part of a performance-linked compensation package to the executives and employees of the Group will enhance the motivation towards higher performance and higher stock prices among the executives and employees of the Group, and allow shareholders and the executives and employees of the Group to share equal benefits.

In addition, the exercise period of a portion of the Subscription Rights to Shares shall commence on the date on which one year has passed from the issuance of the Subscription Rights to Shares, while the proportion of the Subscription Rights to Shares, which may be exercised, shall increase gradually in stages until the date prior to the date on which four years have passed from the issuance, with the rest of the Subscription Rights to Shares becoming exercisable thereafter. By making the stock options exercisable in stages in such a way and having the executives and employees of the Group share not only in the benefits of higher stock prices but also in the risks of lower stock prices with the shareholders, it will be possible to further raise the incentive of the Group towards higher performance and higher stock prices in the medium to long term and retain existing talented staff, as well as to offer an attractive compensation package to prospective recruits to the Group, especially in countries and regions where the competition for talented human resources is intense.

The Company intends to implement stock option plans for the executives and employees of the Group for the purpose of continuous enhancement of the Group's corporate and shareholder values by raising the motivation of the executives and employees of the Group towards higher performance and by recruiting and retaining talented staff.

In the determination of the total amount of compensation, including the granting of the Subscription Rights to Shares, factors such as the degree to which the Group's operating profit targets were achieved; the business performance of each Group company, business segment or division; and the personnel evaluation of each individual are taken into account.

In addition, the Group has designed its compensation system so that, as a general rule, the higher the rank of and the larger the role played by an individual, the larger the bonus linked to the performance of each Group company, business segment or division, and to the performance of the individual, and the larger the proportion of the stock options linked to stock prices. Nevertheless, a major feature of the Group's compensation system is that it delivers Subscription Rights to Shares to a wide range of personnel starting with second-year employees with relatively small ranks and roles up to the Directors. This reflects the Group's belief that by making the majority of its executives and employees potential shareholders, it will further raise the awareness of each executive and employee towards enhancing corporate and shareholder values, as well reinforce the sense of unity among the Group members, which is thought to be an indispensable element in expanding and fostering the “Rakuten Eco-System” both in Japan and abroad.

2. Outline of the issuance of the Subscription Rights to Shares

(1) Total number of units and persons to whom Subscription Rights to Shares will be allotted

Directors of the subsidiaries:	2 in total	47 units in total
Executive Officers and Employees of the subsidiaries:	382 in total	7,754 units in total

(2) Class and number of shares to be issued upon exercise of Subscription Rights to Shares

Common stock of the Company: 780,100 shares

However, if the Company splits its common stock (including allotment of its common stock without compensation; hereinafter the same shall apply) or consolidates its common stock, the number of shares to be issued upon exercise of each unit of such Subscription Rights to Shares shall be adjusted according to the following formula; provided that such adjustment shall be made only to those remain unexercised or uncanceled at the time of such adjustment and; provided, further, that if any fraction less than one share arises as a result of such adjustment, such fraction shall be discarded.

$$\text{Number of shares after adjustment} = \frac{\text{Number of shares before adjustment}}{\text{Ratio of split or consolidation}} \times \text{Ratio of split or consolidation}$$

In addition, if the Company carries out a merger, a company split, share exchange, share transfer, etc. that makes it necessary to adjust the number of shares, the number of shares shall be adjusted within a reasonable range, taking into account the conditions of the merger, company split, share exchange, share transfer, etc.
